With your help, we can continue to nourish the artistic and entrepreneurial minds that keep our community thriving. Every dollar gives back again and again: when you support Ingenuity, you are supporting a petri dish of innovation; providing tools and resources to a unique community asset; and ensuring that peer-to-peer learning and the collaborative spirit have a place to grow and thrive.

Nowhere else in Cleveland is there an open artistic community at our scale where every idea is welcomed, every level of experience is valued, and every person can easily find a way to contribute or ask for help. We spend countless hours each year making connections, offering space & materials, and cultivating new ideas through our incubator program, our Ignite! Impact awards, our weekly Ingeneers sessions, and the stewardship of our year-round IngenuityLabs makerspace.

Ingenuity is so much more than a festival: we are a family and a community that actively nurtures the up-and-coming artists and innovators who can make a true difference in our city, given the chance. We nourish the soil that blossoms into Cleveland's creative landscape, supporting dozens of creative projects, and thousands of creative people, each and every year.

You already know that exposure to local art, music and creative maker experiences enriches and inspires lives. You believe that attending one of Ingenuity's events can ignite the spark for a lifetime of interest in exploration and discovery. Help us ensure that we continue to serve audiences, and just as importantly to inspire and support the participants who bring our programming to life.

Please help us keep the season bright with an end-of-year gift today!
